

BIOGRAPHY RESIDENT · FAUST SEOUL

STANN LUMO

Stann Lumo is a Seoul-based DJ/producer and resident at Faust Seoul, working in hypnotic techno that feels futuristic without losing its weight. His sets are built through layered pressure, heavy low-end movement, and fluid connections between tracks, linking diverse selections into momentum, impact, and spatial detail.

From his home booth at Faust, that approach has carried him to Tresor and HÖR in Berlin, Radion in Amsterdam, and UKW Kraftwerk in Rostock, and onto Korean festival stages including Tor Festival and High Tech Seoul. In the studio, tracks such as Frame Dragging and Astral Prologue carry the same language into production: dense, space-like, and tuned for focused rooms.

Alongside his DJ work, he develops TERMINAL, a digital/live interface project that extends his musical world visually and spatially, and uses it as the stage for his live set.

SOUND

Stann Lumo approaches techno through weight, space, and movement. His sets are built by layering and linking tracks into fluid sequences, balancing hypnotic drive with futuristic texture and heavy low-end presence. Rather than relying on a single fixed mood, he shapes a wider arc through contrast, pressure, and continuous motion.

LIVE SET ABLETON LIVE

Alongside his DJ sets, Stann Lumo performs a live set built in Ableton Live. TERMINAL is where he presents it: he has performed live at TERMINAL 01 (March 2026) and TERMINAL 02 (May 2026) at Faust Seoul.
